

Dr. Addie Ron is an Israeli physician certified in Geriatrics and Family medicine. Dr. Ron served as a District Medical Director at Maccabi Health Services and later on as the northern District Geriatric Medical Director. Dr Ron has a Master's degree in Gerontology from Haifa University and he completed a geriatrics fellowship program at Boston University Medical Center. He is currently practicing Family and Geriatric Medicine and serves as the Medical Director of Niamedic- a pioneering healthcare, data, and research services company that integrate Medical Cannabis treatments to conventional medicine. As a Geriatrician Dr Ron had specialized in treating older adults with Medical Cannabis.