

The California Israel Chamber of Commerce (CICC) is a nonprofit, industry-supported organization dedicated to promoting and strengthening thought leadership, business, investment, entrepreneurship, technology and trade relations between the business communities of California and Israel.

With its wide and dynamic network of over 10,000 entrepreneurs, companies, business executives, investors and service providers, CICC provides a networking platform for joint venture programs between the two communities.

CICC focuses on different verticals including HealthTech; CannaMedtech, AgTech; Cybersecurity, Mobility and more. For many of these areas, CICC established advisory committees consisting of CICC members – situated both in Israel and California. These members are actively involved and leverage their expertise to forge closer business ties between California and Israel.
