

Short Bio

Nadav Gil is the Head of the Cannabis practice, as well of Global Investment and Innovation Incentives practice at Deloitte Israel.

He has extensive experience accompanying companies through their business development stages in all sectors, including the Investment Encouragement Law of 1959 and its implementation, and raising funds for research and development from other government funding sources in Israel and abroad.

Nadav represents companies during their interaction with local tax authorities, the Innovation Authority, Investment Center in the Ministry of Economy and the European Commission.

Over the years, Nadav has accompanied start-up companies, multinational firms, traditional industry enterprises and many public companies.